LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO VISIT OUR RANGE

REPORT TO BE MADE ON STATE'S SYSTEM OF IRON TAXATION

COMMITTEE WILL MEET WITH MINING MEN AND OTHERS
INTERESTED

TO GATHER IN BRAINERD SEPT.
EMBER 26, AT 1:30 P. M., FOR THE TOUR

On Monday, September 26, the members of the legislative interim committee appointed for the purpose of making a special of the state's system of taxation and to report to the next legislature, will assemble in Brainerd at 1:30 P. M. The members are coming to make a trip over the Cuyuna iron range and to see conditions as they exist first hand and to hear any who may wish to be heard. They will remain on the range until Tuesday afternoon, when they will go to Duluth via the Northern Pacific railway.

This committee will, before it makes final report, consider every phase of iron ore taxation including the so-called tonnage tax measures, the royalty tax and the per capita tax limitation.

The people of Brainerd and the Cuyuna range are vitally interested. The members of the committee are hard headed business men of very good capacity and are not out for entertainment or banquets, or anything of the kind. They are out to gather information, to secure the facts, to become acquainted with the conditions as they actually exist. They wish to see and to hear and any who may desire to be heard will have an opportunity.

The Brainerd Chamber of Commerce will lend its assistance to giving the committee all possible aid and information.

People who are mining on the range and who are interested should see that the committee gets the facts of the mining situation. The committee will appreciate the cooperation accorded them.

Said a committee member: "From my knowledge of the members of the committee I am firmly convinced that they wish to recommend the right things and no one can render them as much assistance as those actually engaged in the mining industry."

PRESIDENT WILL ISSUE PROCLAMATION ON ARMISTICE DAY

(By United Press.)
Washington, Sept. 20.—President Harding plans to issue a proclamation to the people on November 11, Armistice day, calling for silent prayer and commemoration in connection with the opening on that day of the disarmament conference and burial in Arlington cemetery of an unknown American soldier dead. It was stated at the White House today.

STRIKERS SWORN IN AS DEPUTIES

IN CALIFORNIA OIL FIELDS—DECLARE THEY WILL NOT PERMIT OUTSIDERS TO WORK

(By United Press)
Bakersfield, Calif., Sept. 20.—Armed strikers who have been sworn in as special deputy sheriffs and constables today picketed the great oil fields in this district. The pickets formed a "law and order" committee and with the apparent consent of civil authorities who are in sympathy with them, they blocked all roads leading to the fields. The oil fields in this district are among the richest, covering several hundred square miles, and containing hundreds of the most valuable producing oil wells in the country.

The strikers declared they will not permit any outside workers to enter the oil district until the employers meet their demand. About 8,000 are on strike of whom 450 are members of the "law and order" committee. About 8,000 are still at work for companies not affected by the strike.

FOREIGN PREMIERS MAY NOT ATTEND ARMS CONFERENCE

DOMESTIC TROUBLES WILL PROBABLY PREVENT THEIR ATTENDANCE AT WASHINGTON

(By ED. L. KEEN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.)
London, Sept. 20.—The road to Washington today was paved with obstacles for every European government.

Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy—each was faced with domestic difficulties in making plans to send delegates to the disarmament conference called by President Harding for November 11.

In all of these four countries it was doubtful if a single premier could attend the full session in Washington.

1. David Lloyd George of Britain will almost certainly be kept at home by the Irish question and unemployment problems in England.

2. Corton De Wiart of Belgium will have the reconstruction of his government to consider for the Belgian parliamentary elections are due at the time of the Washington conference.

3. Signor Bonomi of Italy will probably be required to remain in Rome as the Italian parliament opens in November.

4. Aristide Briand of France has reiterated his determination to head the French delegation to Washington, but increased opposition to his departure led by his enemies will make it extremely difficult.

The same domestic problems which require the presence at home of European prime ministers will probably prevent the presence in Washington of the ablest "right hand men."

American Institute of Bakers Convention

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Pie—the great American desert—must be reformed or it will meet the fate of the dodo.

The activities of the berry counters and mince meat moonshiners must be curbed.

This is the word that has come forth from the pie architects of the country who were today attending the convention of the American Institute of bakers.

Out of the convention will come a uniform standardized pie which will defy the cake making opposition and which will not cause indigestion.

Dr. H. E. Bernard of Minneapolis outlined the nature of the great work. He told of advantages of the definite number of fork marks on the milled edge of pastry, how thick the crust, how thick the "makins" should be to be easily digested.

"Pie has come to mean all sorts of things," said Dr. Bernard.

HEAVY RAIN AND WIND STORM SWEEPS CENTER OF STATE

ALL TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE WIRES ARE DOWN BETWEEN HERE AND ST. PAUL

LATE PRESS REPORTS TO DISPATCH HAD TO COME FROM ST. PAUL BY DULUTH

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Sept. 20.—A heavy wind storm shortly after one o'clock today blew down telephone and telegraph wires in the vicinity of Elk River, forty miles north of here. All telephone and telegraph companies reported their lines out and communication in that vicinity cut off. It was feared extensive damage may have been done.

Conditions were favorable for a big storm, according to the weather bureau.

The storm originated west of Aberdeen, South Dakota and swept east over a line forty miles north of the twin cities. A 55 mile an hour wind was blowing in St. Paul at 1:30 p. m. At 2 o'clock it began to rain and the wind went down. Southeast of Elk River it was reported there was a heavy wind but no damage was done up to 2 o'clock.

There were local thunder showers in several sections over the northwest. Anoka was the nearest town to Elk River that answered telephone calls. Residents there said there was a strong wind and it was cloudy. All stations north of there it was said were cut off from communication.

The Great Northern had rumors that a cyclone struck Albertville, but there was nothing definite.

RAILROADS MUST DEAL WITH LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD HANDS DOWN DECISION TO THIS EFFECT TODAY

(By United Press)

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Collective bargaining of labor unions with the railroads had been approved by the United States railroad labor board today.

In a decision handed down by the board on a petition filed by the Pennsylvania system it was declared the railroads must deal with labor unions as organizations.

The Pennsylvania in its petition "insisted" that it be granted the right to deal direct with its employees instead of with outside labor representatives.

The road was handed a sharp rebuke by the board for charging that a "campaign of misstatements has been waged against the judicial body." In labor circles the decision was viewed as a partial victory for organized labor and a blow against the "open shop."

Cong. Volstead Says Country is Rapidly Becoming Bone Dry

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Sept. 20.—People are getting tired of bootlegging and moonshine, Congressman Volstead told a "dry enforcement congress" of the Minnesota anti-saloon league.

He said the country is rapidly becoming bone dry and asserted the great mass of people will have strict law enforcement.

Light wine and beer, he said, would mean the return of hard liquor and licensed saloons.

Volstead's life has been threatened in anonymous letters, he told the audience. He termed it a part of the "lawless campaign of liquor interests."

STORM CUTS OFF UNITED PRESS NEWS SERVICE

A storm east of St. Cloud after the noon hour, said to approach a cloud burst in intensity, wiped out 60 telephone poles and did much other damage.

United Press news service, received by the Brainerd Dispatch office by telephone, was sadly hampered and nothing was able to break the embargo and get through until at 3 o'clock.

Ironmen are hurriedly repairing the storm damage. Trains of the Northern Pacific traveling this afternoon between St. Cloud and Little Falls had to use their lighting systems. The air was dark as night. It was raining heavy between St. Cloud and Little Falls.

The St. Paul afternoon passenger arrived late at Brainerd, having been delayed by the blowing out of a cylinder head of its engine. A freight engine was used to tow in the train. The engine of the Morris branch, connecting at Little Falls, also had bad luck, breaking a side rod.

BRIBERY REPORTS IN ARBUCKLE CASE ARE INVESTIGATED

GRAND JURY CALLS SHOW GIRLS SAID TO BE APPROACHED TO TESTIFY ON MATTER

M. D. TRACY

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Reports that efforts were made to buy the testimony of important witnesses in the Arbuckle case were investigated by the San Francisco grand jury today.

Miss Zey Prevon, show girl, and one of the guests at "Fatty" Arbuckle's booze party where Miss Rappe was fatally injured, was called to testify as to whether she had been "approached."

Miss Joyce Clark, another show girl roommate of Miss Prevon, was summoned to explain her alleged statement to Dr. Gabor Kingstone, man about town, and Reggie Morley, former movie actor, that there was "money in the case" and that she intended to get it.

Dr. M. E. Rumwell who attended Miss Rappe during her fatal illness following the alleged assault on her by Roscoe Arbuckle, was called before the grand jury to explain his alleged illegal autopsy on the body.

Prohibition agents today were ready to drop their investigation of a report that Miss Rappe's death really was caused by drinking poisoned gin, as the city chemist reported he found no trace of poison in her stomach.

District Attorney Brady announced that Lowell Sherman, one of the guests at the Arbuckle party and who was being counted on to appear as a witness in the Arbuckle trial on charges of murder, has left the jurisdiction of the California court. Sherman, a celebrated movie villain, is en route to Chicago. There is no way to bring him back, authorities said.

Arbuckle expects to confer again today with his wife, Minta Duffee Arbuckle, who came here from New York to help him in his fight for liberty. Although the Arbuckle's have been separated for years they embraced affectionately when they met in the jail here, and Mrs. Arbuckle immediately volunteered to help her husband's lawyers. She intends to be at Arbuckle's side at each public appearance until the jury brings in the verdict.

Get Party Together Again

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Guests who on labor day attended the Roscoe Arbuckle party which preceded the death of Virginia Rappe, will "get together" again tonight to discuss Roscoe's liquor.

That "get together" will be in the room of the federal grand jury with Robert H. McCormick, special assistant United States attorney general as host. McCormick announced today that he had determined to acquire all Chicago's liquor.

Arbuckle thus far has merely told the federal investigators that "there was no liquor there" and has stood pat on his rights not to talk.

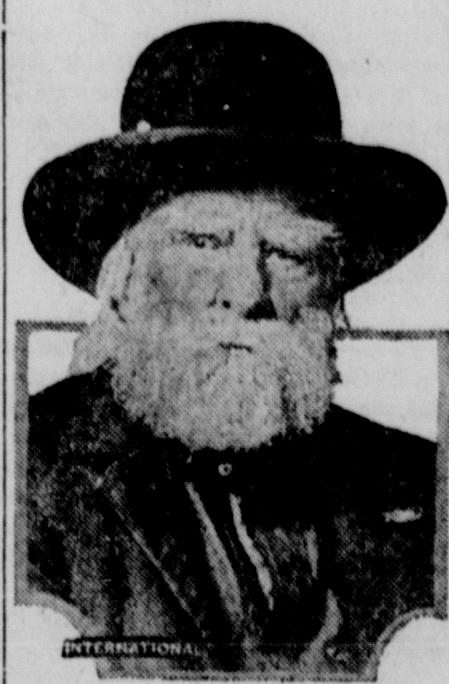

SEND THE GERMAN TREATY TO SENATE

Washington, Sept. 20.—President Harding will send the German treaty to the senate tomorrow. It was said at the White House today. The treaty will be accompanied by a brief note.

Shoots High School Girl and Kills Himself

Los Angeles, Sept. 20.—Miss Esther Greening, age 20, high school student, was shot and killed early today by Dr. A. F. Burke. After shooting the girl through the heart, Greening turned the gun on himself dying a few seconds later. The tragedy occurred at the doorsteps of the girl's home. Miss Greening had known Burke about three months. Police have not been able to establish a motive for the crime.

AMERICAN WINS GORDON-BENNETT BALLOON CUP RACE

RALPH UPSON, PILOTING THE BALLOON "AERO CLUB OF AMERICA" MAKES GREAT EST DISTANCE

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 20.—Ralph Upson, American, piloting the balloon "Aero Club of America" in the Gordon-Bennett International Cup race, landed today at Casdigan, Wales. Upson's flight was believed to be the longest of any of the fourteen contestants, and it was possible he would be named the winner of the trophy.

Two contestants, Bernard Van Hoffman, of St. Louis, and a Swiss balloon have not been heard from. Upson landed the greatest distance from Brussels.

Two Balloons Missing

London, Sept. 20.—Two Americans and one Swiss entry in the Gordon-Bennett International balloon race were still reported missing at 3 o'clock this afternoon and fear for the safety of the pilots and assistants were expressed here.

Two French balloons which with the Swiss and Americans were still aloft early today landed.

The American balloons which were missing were the "Aero Club of America" piloted by Ralph Upson, and "The City of St. Louis" piloted by Bernard Van Hoffman.

All other entries have landed.

Despite statements from St. Louis to the effect that a cablegram has been received from Bernard Van Hoffman no word of his landing had been received in London this afternoon.

City of St. Louis Lands

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—The balloon, "City of St. Louis," entry in the International race for the Gordon-Bennett trophy, has landed in northwest England, a cablegram received from Bernard Van Hoffman, pilot, by his parents said today.

The exact location of the landing was not contained in the message.

LEWIS ATTACKS RADICALISM IN ORGANIZED LABOR

IN KEYNOTE ADDRESS TO MINE WORKERS CONVENTION AS-
SAULTS RADICAL LEADERS

ADVOCATES UNITY IN FIGHTING
WAGE REDUCTION—URGES UNI-
ONIZATION OF MINERS

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, today administered a stinging slap to radicalism within the rank of organized labor in his keynote address to the miners convention. He struck particularly the "left wing" of his organization.

Lewis called upon the convention to rebuke Alexander Howatt, Frank Farrington and Robert H. Harlin, district leaders of Kansas, Illinois and Washington respectively, for their official acts which he said violated the union law.

Other recommendations made to the convention by Lewis were:

Absolute unity of action in fighting the wage reduction which the mine operators propose to force at the wage scale conference next March.

Relinquishment of demands for nationalization of mines.

Vigorous prosecution of the fight for unionization of the West Virginia mine war area.

Institution of legal prosecution to test the constitutionality of the Kansas industrial court law.

While other powerful trade union organizations have been compelled to accord themselves to pressure of economic conditions our union has held its line of battle and our forces are everywhere intact, Lewis said.

We refuse to retreat despite the fight of adversaries and criticism leveled at our union no wage reductions have been taken and it is our high purpose to continue this policy.

Unionization Central Question

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—Unionization of the West Virginia mine war country developed today into the central question at the United Mine Workers convention which opened in Tomlinson hall here.

International union officials realize that this movement is of the first importance in the whole fight against wage reduction proposed by mine operators.

Mingo, McDowell, Logan and Mercer counties—the scene of civil strife—were said to be the battle ground upon which the operators and the unions will fight out the entire question of labor organizations. During the nation wide coal strike in Nov. 1919, the mines in these four counties operated by non union men, produced enough coal to materially aid the country in the fuel crisis through which it passed.

DRY RAIDERS MOP UP CHICAGO

TWENTY BREWERS ARE SEARCHED AND BREW FOUND POUR-ED IN THE STREETS

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 20.—A flying squadron of dry raiders "mopped up" Chicago today. Twenty breweries were searched. Barrels of brew were pounded open and samples taken off in automobiles. Local prohibition authorities said the raiders were acting under orders from Washington. The raids started at 5 a. m. and were all over in five hours. Word went out that other clubs were to meet the fate of the Chicago Athletic club, recently raided.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Reports that efforts were made to buy the testimony of important witnesses in the Arbuckle case were investigated by the San Francisco grand jury today.

Get Party Together Again

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Guests who on labor day attended the Roscoe Arbuckle party which preceded the death of Virginia Rappe, will "get together" again tonight to discuss Roscoe's liquor.

That "get together" will be in the room of the federal grand jury with Robert H. McCormick, special assistant United States attorney general as host. McCormick announced today that he had determined to acquire all available information.

Arbuckle thus far has merely told the federal investigators that "there was no liquor there" and has stood pat on his rights not to talk.

AMERICAN WINS
GORDON-BENNETT
BALLOON CUP RACERALPH UPSON, PILOTING THE BALLOON "AERO CLUB OF AM-ERICA" MAKES GREAT
EST DISTANCE

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 20.—Ralph Upson, American, piloting the balloon "Aero Club of America" in the Gordon-Bennett International Cup race, landed today at Casdigan, Wales. Upson's flight was believed to be the longest of any of the fourteen contestants, and it was possible he would be named the winner of the trophy.

Two contestants, Bernard Van Hoffman, of St. Louis, and a Swiss balloon have not been heard from. Upson landed the greatest distance from Brussels.

Two Balloons Missing

London, Sept. 20.—Two Americans and one Swiss entry in the Gordon-Bennett international balloon race were still reported missing at 3 o'clock this afternoon and fear for the safety of the pilots and assistants were expressed here.

Two French balloons which with the Swiss and Americans were still aloft early today landed.

The American balloons which were missing were the "Aero Club of America" piloted by Ralph Upson, and "The City of St. Louis" piloted by Bernard Van Hoffman.

All other entries have landed.

Despite statements from St. Louis to the effect that a cablegram has been received from Bernard Van Hoffman no word of his landing had been received in London this afternoon.

City of St. Louis Lands

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—The balloon, "City of St. Louis," entry in the international race for the Gordon-Bennett trophy, has landed in northwestern England, a cablegram received from Bernard Van Hoffman, pilot, by his parents said today.

The exact location of the landing was not contained in the message.

LEWIS ATTACKS
RADICALISM IN
ORGANIZED LABORIN KEYNOTE ADDRESS TO MINE WORKERS CONVENTION AS-
SAILS RADICAL LEADERSADVOCATES UNITY IN FIGHTING
WAGE REDUCTION—URGES UNI-
ONIZATION OF MINE MINERS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, today administered a stinging slap to radicalism within the rank of organized labor in his keynote address to the miners convention. He struck particularly the "left wing" of his organization.

Lewis called upon the convention to rebuke Alexander Howatt, Frank Farrington and Robert H. Harlin, district leaders of Kansas, Illinois and Washington respectively, for their official acts which he said violated the union law.

Other recommendations made to the convention by Lewis were:

Absolute unity of action in fighting the wage reduction which the mine operators propose to force at the wage scale conference next March.

Relinquishment of demands for nationalization of mines.

Vigorous prosecution of the fight for unionization of the West Virginia mine war area.

Institution of legal prosecution to test the constitutionality of the Kansas industrial court law.

While other powerful trade union organizations have been compelled to accord themselves to pressure of economic conditions our union has held its line of battle and our forces are everywhere intact, Lewis said.

We refuse to retreat despite the fight of adversaries and criticism leveled at our union no wage reductions have been taken and it is our high purpose to continue this policy.

Unionization Central Question

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—Unionization of the West Virginia mine war country developed today into the central question at the United Mine Workers convention which opened in Tomlinson hall here.

International union officials realize that this movement is of the first importance in the whole fight against wage reduction proposed by mine operators.

Mingo, McDowell, Logan and Mercer counties—the scene of civil strife—were said to be the battle ground upon which the operators and the unions will fight out the entire question of labor organizations. During the nation wide coal strike in Nov. 1919, the mines in these four counties operated by non union men, produced enough coal to materially aid the country in the fuel crisis through which it passed.

600,000 VETERANS
DECLARED JOBLESS

Washington, Sept. 19.—Claiming there are from 600,000 to 700,000 veterans of the World war out of work, the American Legion, through its national legislative committee, has issued an appeal to employers throughout the country to "loosen their pursestrings, lengthen their vision and make jobs for the men who kept American business safe from a German indemnity."

The Legion's appeal says a careful study indicates there are 150,000 veterans out of employment in Pennsylvania, 100,000 in New York, $35,000 in Ohio, 10,000 in Minnesota, 7,500 in Washington, and from 5,000 to 20,000 in the remainder of 16 states under survey.

It says that in a number of states veterans relief laws are enabling unemployed former service men to obtain the bare necessities of life; that in other states where no such legislation has been passed, American Legion posts are stripping their treasures of their last dollars to keep "bread in the mouths and clothes on the backs of needy comrades."

Continuing, the statement says:

"Today more American veterans than fought at St. Michel, more than the first American army, compose Americas army of unemployed. Six hundred thousand jobless veterans are walking the streets of our towns and cities wondering where the next meal is coming from.

"The American Legion believes that, had congress passed the adjusted compensation bill, the present serious condition would never have come about, at least not for the veterans of the war. And it would likewise believe that, should congress immediately upon reconvening pass the relief bill, the condition will be greatly alleviated."

Football Possibilities and

(By United Press.)

Iowa University—Big Ten
Iowa City, Sept. 20.—A quartet of veterans of Big Ten grid iron battles will bolster hopes of Iowa U football fans in the Western conference battles this fall, almost—but not quite—to the point of hoping for a chance at the pennant.

Slater, tackle, Belding, end, Glen Devine, halfback, and Captain Aubrey Devine, quarterback are the Hawkeye stalwarts, but Iowa supporters have been on the outside of the Big Ten so long that they can't believe themselves in the same class with Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The dauntless four are finishing their gridiron careers and fireworks may be expected. Slater and Belding are playing their fourth years by grace of the S. A. T. C. ruling, and the Devine brothers have two years of conference football already to their credit.

Heldt, star center, has been out of school a year, but is expected to return to Coach Howard Jones' tutelage this fall.

Hawkeye wings will be as strong as any Big Ten circles, with Belding and Kadesky. Tackle positions will be bolstered up by Slater and the return of Heldt will solve the pivot position. The Devine brothers will solve the backfield problem, and with Locke, and Shuttlesworth, backs of last year, and Miller, promising freshman the ball jugglers squad will nearly be completed.

The only non-conference games this year will be with Notre Dame and the season opener with Knox college here October 1. The schedule follows:

Oct. 1—Knox at Iowa City.
Oct. 8—Notre Dame at Iowa City.
Oct. 15—Illinois at Iowa City.
Oct. 29—Purdue at Lafayette.
Nov. 5—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 12—Indiana at Iowa City.
Nov. 19—Northwestern at Evanston.

Melbourne, Sept. 20.—There is a possibility of Australia receiving $2,000,000 as its share of the first reparation payment of $250,000,000, made by Germany, according to Acting Prime Minister Cook.

National Forestry Conference
St. Paul, Sept. 20.—The national forestry conference opening in Albany, N. Y., today should evolve better means of combatting white pine blister rust and other enemies of standing timber, according to the state forestry department today.

The white pine blister rust menace in Minnesota has been considerably lessened in the last two or three years according to State Forester Cox. The rust menace in the New England states at this time, however, is great.

The conference of heads of state forestry departments was to have been held at Itasca State Park, near Bemidji, this year, but the meeting place was changed owing to the blister rust situation in New England.

Discuss Farm Credit Situation

St. Paul, Sept. 20.—The farm credit situation in Minnesota was to be fully discussed here today at a meeting of bankers, farmers, and officers of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

Members of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis and the St. Paul Federal Land Bank were invited to the conference as well as officers of large and small banks throughout the state.

The aim of the conference, it was stated, is to impress upon the bankers the necessity of extending credit to farmers themselves, so that they may go through the marketing and producing seasons without having to sacrifice profits justly theirs.

Unless the farmer is given adequate credit, it was pointed out, he is forced to dispose of his crops on an unfavorable market. The elevator man and speculator buys them on this advantage.

This works an injustice on the producer, who is actually carrying the production load it was declared.

The question of interest rate is also to be taken up. Members of the farm bureau federation will present cases to show that undue interest is being charged against farmers on liquid assets. In some cases, it was declared, farmers have been compelled to pay from 8 to 10 per cent interest and in addition pay a premium for loans.

Wilkins of Fort Wayne, last year's freshman quarter, and Brunett, who has never been out for varsity before are training for quarter. Regular practice begins on the 15th, which leaves only two weeks and a half before the game with Harvard at Cambridge, October 8. Minnesota, Notre Dame, Iowa and Purdue are later opponents.

Coach Stiehman has accepted conditionally an invitation for a post-season game with Florida at the Miami Palm Fete in December.

"Whether we go down there or not depends on how well the team shows up," he said. "In spite of evident drawbacks, I believe we will finish very creditably."

Indiana will use the new flying shift, Hoosier adaptation of the Minnesota shift, the coach said. This play provides for one man in motion while the rest of the backfield is shifting.

ENORMOUS PRICES PAID FOR STAMPS AT PARIS AUCTION

By WILFRID FLEISHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Paris. (By Mail)—The sum of 156,000 francs has been paid for a single postage stamp, a little square of blue paper from Hawaii with a large figure 2, dated 1851.

It was only one of the famous collection of the late Duke Ferrari de la Renotiere which yielded in one day's sale at the Hotel Drouot, the fabulous sum of 1,100,805 francs.

The Ferrari collection was conceded the finest in the world. The late Duke had inherited a large fortune from his father, an Italian financier, and is said to have spent 200,000 francs annually in buying stamps. Ferrari was of German birth, and his collection was confiscated by the French government at the outset of the war in 1914. It is now being auctioned off at intervals, the proceeds being placed to the credit of the German indemnity bill.

The Duke was completely absorbed in his collection. Such was his passion for stamps, that it is said, that although a confirmed bachelor, he was at one time induced to advertise for a wife on condition that she bring him a one penny Mauritius 1847. He had willed his collection to the German government.

The entire collection was valued by experts at from 30,000,000 to 105,000,000 francs. Stamp collectors have come to Paris from the four corners of the globe for the sale.

The lot that drew the highest bid was a pair of stamps from English Guiana, the vertical 2 cents black on pink, dated 1850, and post marked. These went to an Alsatian tobacco dealer for 210,000 francs. This bid for two little bits of tarnished paper on which even the picture was indiscernible under the post mark, is the highest ever recorded at a public sale.

A set of 2,000 Uruguayan stamps, valued at 40,000 francs, brought 111,000 francs. The 2 pence blue indigo of Mauritius was bid 50,000 francs; the 4 cent black and blue from English Guiana, with the letters E. D. W., went to Mr. Caspari, the American collector, for 44,500 francs. A number of others brought from 12,000 to 30,000 francs each.

The highest bid for a single stamp heretofore recorded was 99,500 francs for the 2 pence blue indigo Mauritius, bid at a sale here in May, 1920.

"Limitation", Not "Disarmament"

Washington, Sept. 20.—(Special correspondence.)—It is a matter of surprised comment among those associated with the preparations for the forthcoming international conference that it should be referred to so frequently as a conference on "disarmament." Certainly no statement that has been given out by any government official with regard to the meeting has used the word "disarmament" and the invitations extended to the powers to participate contain no such language. Its widespread adoption by some editors can only be attributable to a misconception of the purpose of the conference or to gross carelessness in the use of words.

On July 10th the State Department issued a statement to the effect that "The President in view of the far reaching importance of the question of limitation of armaments" had asked the powers if it would be agreeable to them to participate in a conference on the subject. "It is manifest," continued the statement, "that the question of limitation of armaments has a close relation to Pacific and Far Eastern problems," and it was suggested that those subjects be also considered at the meeting.

Favorable replies to the informal invitation were received, whereupon Secretary Hughes despatched formal messages to the five powers asking them to attend a meeting on Armistice Day. Those messages began as follows: "The President is deeply gratified at the cordial response to his suggestion that there should be a conference on the subject of limitation of armament" etc. "In pursuance of the proposal which has been made," concluded the invitation, "and in the light of the gracious indication of its acceptance, the President invites the government of— to participate in a conference on the subject of limitation of armament in connection with which Pacific and Far Eastern questions will also be discussed, to be held in Washington on the 11th day of November, 1921."

There is no hint of "disarmament" in any of the negotiations that have led up to the conference, but so prevalent has become the use of the term that Secretary Hughes, in a recent interview with Washington newspaper correspondents, thought it necessary to remind them that the meeting was officially known as a "conference on the subject of limitation of armament," and that the use of the term "disarmament" conveyed a wholly false impression of the objects which the conference would seek to attain.

There is a suspicion in certain Washington circles that the Democrats are quietly spreading the impression that the meeting is a disarmament conference, and trying to make people believe that the objects sought by President Harding are far more ambitious than is really the truth. They think that if the people can be led to believe that the conference has been called to bring about disarmament, and it adjourns without accomplishing that result, they will be in a position to refer to the meeting as a Republican failure. That suspicion is strengthened by a recent speech of Mr. McAdoo in which he referred to a navyless world, and sought to convey the impression that the armaments conference might bring about that very state of affairs.

It behooves Republicans to be careful in choice of words in speaking of the meeting. They furnish ammunition for their political enemies by referring to the parley as a "disarmament" conference. They will be strictly correct, hold out no false hopes to the people, and deprive the Democrats of campaign material for use next fall by designating the meeting only as a "conference on the subject of limitation of armament."

HIGHWAY AID APPROPRIATION

The request of C. M. Babcock, State Highway Commissioner, for resolutions by organizations and petitions by citizens to members of congress urging that the highway aid appropriations be doubled to enable state highway departments to continue road work throughout the winter, and thus provide work for unemployed men, seems to have met with a general response throughout the state. A flood of resolutions and petitions is said to be pouring into Washington to impress Congress with the importance of the plan. It is considered the most definite and practical proposal yet made.

E. G. Hall, president of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, who has just returned from a business trip to New York City, strongly urges prompt action to avoid an acute unemployment situation in Minnesota this winter, and heartily endorses Mr. Babcock's plan.

"Broadlines already are seen in the East," said Mr. Hall, "and this section must act without delay if the sufferings of forced idleness are to be avoided. All departments of the national, state and municipal governments must move to relieve the situation and public works must go forward first on an emergency basis if employers generally are expected to aid."

THE POTATO MARKET

The Princeton Union, from the center of the great Minnesota potato growing district, reports that the potato situation in that section is beginning to look brighter. The yield of late potatoes is estimated at 25 to 30 per cent greater than was at first anticipated and some fields will go 100 bushels or better to the acre. The outside demand for Princeton potatoes at present is said to be light, and only about 20 cars were shipped from Princeton during the past week. Eastern and western potatoes placed on the big markets of the country are of excellent quality, classed No. 1, and sell at a premium for the reason that they are passed over a one and seven-eighths screen. In Princeton potatoes are passed over a one and five-eighths screen and sold as partly graded. Prices in the Princeton market are quoted at from $1.50 to $2.00 per cwt.

FOOD STORES DECREASE

The monthly survey of stocks of foodstuffs in Minnesota shows a big shrinkage from last year, the chief inspector of the State Department of Agriculture reports. There were 3,344,000 pounds less of foodstuffs in cold storage warehouses at the end of August than at the first of the month, and 2,101,972 pounds less August 31, 1921, than August 31, 1920, he says. There was a slight increase in the amount of fresh beef, but a decrease of more than 1,000,000 pounds in fresh pork. The amount of creamery butter stored in Minnesota increased from 2,128,584 pounds to 2,547,061 pounds from August 1st to August 31st.

All Brainerd prays that eventually South Sixth street will be paved. As matters now stand the street induces the breaking of several commandments as well as automobile springs. Have you your $250? According to a statement issued by the Treasury Department, which puts the total population of the United States at 103,000,000, every man, woman and child in the country is supposed to have $250 saved up.

The statement shows that the savings of small investors throughout the country total approximately $27,000,000,000, of which $21,000,000,000 is invested in government securities and $6,000,000,000 is represented by the deposits of more than 30,000 savings-banks.

HUNTING CASUALTIES

So far there have been no hunting casualties at or near Brainerd. No reports have been received of hunters killed or wounded by mistake and for that matter, too, the death toll of ducks has not been a large one either. Senator Hilding Swanson came back after a deal of effort spent in the Platte Lake country hunting for small game. There was much shooting, but not even a feather for trophy until the family hunting dog got a wounded bird some other hunter had shot and brought it to camp.

William Farnum in New Fox Photodrama

Those who love fine dramatic work the best that the screen affords, will be pleased to know that William Farnum will be at the Lyceum Theatre this Wednesday and Thursday in a play of domestic life called "The Greatest Sacrifice."

This story, based on modern life, shows that there cannot be two masters in the house. It teaches that a wife cannot gain the greatest happiness in life by sacrificing the love of her husband and her child for the plaudits of the theatre-going public. When his wife starts out on her career her husband has just begun to win success as a writer. But the wife ignores this; in her selfish ambition she cuts loose from her husband and child. She wins fame, but in the end she longs for what she had wilfully cast away—the love of these two.

Vera Gordon Mother of "Humoresque" at Lyceum

Vera Gordon, who created such a sensational success in "Humoresque," was seen last night in the "The Greatest Love," at the Lyceum where it will remain tonight.

This is a dramatic story of mother love, sacrifice and family honor. Intense interest is sustained throughout by means of complications surrounding the death of a theatrical producer known to have been one of the most hated men in the city. There were dozens who might have had a motive for slaying him, but Lantini was found bending over the dead man, and as he also had a motive for revenge, he was arrested and sentenced to death. It is not until the final reel that the startling denouement is made.

4-STAR COMBINATION
SHINES IN "COLD STEEL"

McGowan, Clifford, Shedd and Katterjohn Give Combined Talents to Big Theme

J. P. McGowan, star and director; Kathleen Clifford, noted prima donna and bright light of the screen; George C. Shedd, author of a long list of best sellers, and Monte Katterjohn, foremost photodramatist of the country, bestowed their combined talents upon "Cold Steel" which is presented today by the American Legion at the New Park theatre.

This brilliant array of headliners put their best into the making of a gripping story of the wastelands, supplying it with the various elements of suspense, of romance, of intrigue and all the other ingredients that build up a drama of the screen.

"Cold Steel," was adapted by Mr. Katterjohn from the famous novel "In the Shadow of the Hills," from the facile pen of George C. Shedd. The story is laid in the San Mateo Valley, New Mexico, and is rich with the rugged atmosphere of the open country. Although the plot revolves about characters that are indubitably Western, the play differs radically from the usual type of wild west production.

J. P. McGowan, to whose credit is a long list of stage and photoplay successes, portrays the leading role and is supported by an all star cast including such well known players as Stanhope Wheatcroft, A. N. Milette, Charles E. Insley, Milton Brown, Negel De Brulier and Elinor Fair. McGowan's long experience both as an actor in important stage and screen plays fit him perfectly to portray his exacting role in "Cold Steel." Critics everywhere have commended him.

Miss Clifford came first into prominence several years ago when she created a furor on Broadway by playing a child's part in the memorable extravaganza "Top of the World." Both for her dancing and her delicate beauty she won the commendation of both critics and public and was the hit of the production during its long and successful run. She also created the name part in Henry Savage's production of "Little Boy Blue," to which her slight figure and charming personality readily adapted her. Then followed a season in London and a return to her native land to play in "Business Before Pleasure" and "The Heart of a Child" in which she created the leading role. It was natural that the picture producers should select such a promising young woman and shortly after Miss Clifford made her screen debut, co-starring with Douglas Fairbanks in "When the Clouds Roll By" and several other important productions of like importance.

"Robin Hood"

In spite of the inclement weather, the Dunbar Opera Company delighted a large and representative audience at the New Park theatre Monday evening with the comic opera "Robin Hood." Almost every seat was sold, attesting to the popularity of the opera and the excellence of the company.

"Robin Hood" is a real joy to lovers of good music, and the production pleases the artistic eye with its beautiful costumes and realistic scenery. In the language of the Fifteenth century it is said of the hero: "Robyn was a prude outlaw. Whyles he walked on ground; So curteyse an outlaw as he was one Was never non yfonde."

In the opinion of the Twentieth century theatre goers, he is the same dear outlaw, administering justice according to his own interpretation by taking from the rich and giving to the poor.

Harry Pfeil as "Robin Hood" was excellent, and his clear and ringing tenor gave much pleasure to his hearers.

The well-known musical numbers were superbly sung, and drew frequent applause. Many who have never heard the opera are familiar with the tuneful melodies, and young brides and brides of yesterday smiled in shy remembrance when in the second act that famous old song "Oh, Promise Me" was sung. It has almost become a wedding classic, and many couples there last evening had pledged their troth to its sweet melody. Perhaps the sentiment of the song demand too much from mere human beings, but those who have not found the higher vision at least have found "the hollows where those flowers grew." This song was beautifully and convincingly sung by Paula Ayres as "Allan-a-Dale." She gave to it a pathos and earnestness far above the usual rendering.

Theo Pennington's singing was astonishingly fine for comic opera, some of her high notes almost rivaling those of Galli Gulli. She thrills as easily and carefree as a bird!

Joe Clea Howe as Annabelle was very petite and pretty and sang and acted delightfully. "The Brown October Ale" was sung with vigor, the entire chorus joining "Little John" in singing this number. The archers in their bright costumes, the lovely greens and browns of the autumnal landscape, and the waterfall in the distance, formed a scene of rare beauty. Harry Kleeman was obliged to repeat his song again and again. Other songs heartily applauded by the audience were the "Armourer's Song" and "It Takes Nine Tailors to Make a Man." The sheriff, disguised, and his sprightly tinkers, gave a very entertaining number, also. In fact most of the comedy of the opera centers around the sheriff, played by Ed. Andrews.

The setting for the last act was the central square in the medieval town of Nottingham, with the Ar-

HIGHWAY AID APPROPRIATION

The request of C. M. Babcock, State Highway Commissioner, for resolutions by organizations and petitions by citizens to members of congress urging that the highway aid appropriations be doubled to enable state highway departments to continue road work throughout the winter, and thus provide work for unemployed men, seems to have met with a general response throughout the state. A flood of resolutions and petitions is said to be pouring into Washington to impress Congress with the importance of the plan. It is considered the most definite and practical proposal yet made.

E. G. Hall, president of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, who has just returned from a business trip to New York City, strongly urges prompt action to avoid an acute unemployment situation in Minnesota this winter, and heartily endorses Mr. Babcock's plan.

"Broadlines already are seen in the East," said Mr. Hall, "and this section must act without delay if the sufferings of forced idleness are to be avoided. All departments of the national, state and municipal governments must move to relieve the situation and public works must go forward first on an emergency basis if employers generally are expected to aid."

COUNCIL IN SESSION ON MONDAY EVENING

Water and Light Board Wants a Loan from Sinking Fund Commissioners for Few Months

TO MEET A BOND PAYMENT

Northeast Brainerd Improvement Club Wishes to Beautify the Fill With Ornamental Lamps

All members of the council were present at the Monday evening session except Alderman F. M. Koop, who is recovering from an operation.

To Meet Bond
In a statement to the council, W. D. McKay, secretary of the water and light board, stated it will take all the money that can be saved over operating expenses to pay the $5,000 bond November 1 and $8,687.50 interest on bonds before January 1.

Ten blocks of pipe are lying on the street, the pipe all paid for, but not sufficient money on hand at present to lay the pipe before frost sets in. The secretary wished the council to approve asking the sinking fund commissioners to take up the bond due November 1 and carrying it for the water and light board until after January 1. It was referred to the finance committee for a report.

Library Status
Mrs. W. C. Rasch, member of the library board, asked the council to levy a half mill increase for the benefit of the public library. Mrs. T. E. Jones, the librarian, also spoke. The matter was referred to the mayor, chairman of finance committee and the president of the council.

Fill Improvement
Edward Crust, Richard Ilse and Hugo A. Kaatz, representatives of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement Association, addressed the council and pleaded for cooperation in beautifying the fill. They wish to add ornamental lamp posts on Kindred street from the west end of the fill to Third Avenue. The association has close to $500 in its treasury which it will devote to this municipal improvement, provided the city installs the posts, supplies light and attends to their maintenance. The matter was referred to the light and finance committees which will meet September 27 with the water and light board.

Fountain for Horses
O. J. Bouma and F. H. Gruenhagen, of the Chamber of Commerce spoke in favor of a drinking fountain for horses near the Angel feed store. They asked installation of the same at Front and Ninth street. It was referred to the water committee.

Traffic Ordinance
The traffic laws were discussed and the absence of an ordinance covering the same. It was brought out that alleys often had cars blocking same so that the fire truck could not go through the same. Some cars carried sirens like that of the fire truck. Cars were parked close to cross walks when they should be 30 feet from the cross walk. A flagrant instance of disregard for ordinary parking rules was a line of cars on South Sixth extending right to the cross walk from the First National bank to the Ransford hotel and making it difficult for cars to negotiate the narrow roadway left by paving operations.

Sewer Estimates
Estimates on sewers are to be made and bids for construction asked.

Flushing Sewers
The city engineer is to flush sewers on South Fifth and South Sixth streets.

Bids Returned
Bids on curbing 11th street were ordered returned unopened. No work is to be done until spring.

Bills Allowed
Bills were allowed by the council.

ROBIN HOOD COMEDIAN WELL KNOWN HERE

Ed Andrews, Who Played Part of Sheriff in "Robin Hood" Was in Wreck 27 Years Ago

WIFE KILLED IN THE DISASTER

Andrews Headed Own Company, "Andrews Opera Company", Remembered Many Brainerd People

When Brainerd people attended "Robin Hood" Monday night they met many old friends in cast and company.

First was Ed Andrews, who gave such a wonderful interpretation of the sheriff of Nottingham. Brainerd brings sad memories of the past to Mr. Andrews. 27 years ago he headed his own opera company, the Andrews company, and suffered disaster in a wreck on the Northern Pacific near Jonesville, first flag station east of Brainerd. This, by the way, is the only serious passenger train wreck that ever happened in the vicinity of Brainerd.

It was bitter cold, 40 degrees below zero. The train went into the ditch on a curve and Mrs. Andrews and her maid were killed in the sleeper which overturned and caught on fire.

George and Ed Andrews own a fruit ranch in Oregon. Mrs. Joyce of the Andrews company recovered from her injuries and is now in New York.

Herbert S. Maddy

Herbert S. Maddy, publicity promoter of the Ralph Dunbar Productions, Inc., is well known in Brainerd. Mr. Maddy, while publicity man for the Rhoda Royal circus, helped Brainerd Lodge of Elks, No. 515, stage the biggest Fourth of July celebration Brainerd ever had in ten years.

"Our Robin Hood company", wrote Mr. Maddy to the Dispatch. "is a splendid one and you will like it."

And Brainerd did like the company and will gladly recommend this "Robin Hood" company to any other city as being the finest company to present this American classic.

Charles H. Dixon

The members of the Dunbar opera company are an exceptionally fine lot of people. They seem to form one big family, all for each, and each for all. They could not speak in fine enough terms of their manager Charles H. Dixon. He is a man of splendid personality and kindly heart, and has the art of bringing out the best in his company.

Some changes had been made in the principles of the cast weeks before coming to Brainerd. They were trained soloists from the Dunbar school of music and members of another company and their singing in Brainerd showed them to be artists of the highest order. Theo Pennington as "Maid Marian" succeeded Dorothy Shirley. Paula Ayres had the part of "Alan-a-Dale." George O'Donnell was "Friar Tuck." George P. Olsen was "Sir Guy" and Madeline Hartford was "Dame Durden".

Watty Hydes

The conductor, Watty Hydes, has a warm place in the hearts of all his associates. He confessed that, though a musician of long standing, until recently he had never heard the opera, "Robin Hood," in fact, not until he came to the company as conductor. He expressed a great interest in the fact that he was near the source of the Mississippi river. Though having played in towns up and down its length, he had never been so near the source before. His kindly treatment of the understudies, he was rehearsing Monday afternoon was a sample of the harmony between the members of the company.

One young lady said she was a church singer before signing up with Robert Dunbar, and had sung in every church in the city from which she came, even singing in a negro church on one occasion! She was from Flint, Michigan.

SHOOTS AT WIFE, LODGED IN JAIL

Following a quarrel with his wife near the midnight hour, Sanford Hill of 1518 Laurel street, followed his wife into the back yard of their home and fired two shots of a revolver at her. The shots went wild and no injury was done.

Hill was locked in the city jail and at a hearing put under $1,000 bonds to preserve the peace. He was then lodged in the county jail until such time as he can raise the bonds.

COUNCIL IN SESSION ON MONDAY EVENING

Water and Light Board Wants a Loan from Sinking Fund Commissioners for Few Months

TO MEET A BOND PAYMENT

Northeast Brainerd Improvement
Club Wishes to Beautify the Hill
With Ornamental Lamps

All members of the council were present at the Monday evening session except Alderman F. M. Koop, who is recovering from an operation.

To Meet Bond

In a statement to the council, W. D. McKay, secretary of the water and light board, stated it will take all the money that can be saved over operating expenses to pay the $5,000 bond November 1 and $8,687.50 interest on bonds before January 1.

Ten blocks of pipe are lying on the street, the pipe all paid for, but not sufficient money on hand at present to lay the pipe before frost sets in. The secretary wished the council to approve asking the sinking fund commissioners to take up the bond due November 1 and carrying it for the water and light board until after January 1. It was referred to the finance committee for a report.

Library Status

Mrs. W. C. Rasch, member of the library board, asked the council to levy a half mill increase for the benefit of the public library. Mrs. T. E. Jones, the librarian, also spoke. The matter was referred to the mayor, chairman of finance committee and the president of the council.

Hill Improvement

Edward Crust, Richard Ilse and Hugo A. Kaatz, representatives of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement Association, addressed the council and pleaded for cooperation in beautifying the hill. They wish to add ornamental lamp posts on Kindred street from the west end of the hill to Third Avenue. The association has close to $500 in its treasury which it will devote to this municipal improvement, provided the city installs the posts, supplies light and attends to their maintenance. The matter was referred to the light and finance committees which will meet September 27 with the water and light board.

Fountain for Horses

O. J. Bouma and F. H. Gruenhagen, of the Chamber of Commerce spoke in favor of a drinking fountain for horses near the Angel feed store. They asked installation of the same at Front and Ninth street. It was referred to the water committee.

Traffic Ordinance

The traffic laws were discussed and the absence of an ordinance covering the same. It was brought out that alleys often had cars blocking same so that the fire truck could not go through the same. Some cars carried sirens like that of the fire truck. Cars were parked close to cross walks when they should be 30 feet from the cross walk. A flagrant instance of disregard for ordinary parking rules was a line of cars on South Sixth extending right to the cross walk from the First National bank to the Ransford hotel and making it difficult for cars to negotiate the narrow roadway left by paving operations.

Sewer Estimates

Estimates on sewers are to be made and bids for construction asked.

Flushing Sewers

The city engineer is to flush sewers on South Fifth and South Sixth streets.

Bids Returned

Bids on curbing 11th street were ordered returned unopened. No work is to be done until spring.

Bills Allowed

Bills were allowed by the council.
